PROLOGUE

It's harvest festival time in Bibogu Village. On this special day there is much rejoicing in the streets as the young men of the village carry the figure of Karna through the crowd as a part of a rite of passage to adulthood. But Theron the shepherd is not there. He missed the ritual because he had to drag a lamb out of the deadly swamp into which it had fallen. Theron is crushed. By missing the ritual this year, he may lose the one chance in his life to be admitted into the village as an adult man.

That night Grey Lord the Sorcerer descended to the village from the heavens. He stood before the people and spoke to them in a quiet yet grave voice: "I seek one who can regain the Seven Symbols of the Brave."

In ancient days none who had answered the challenge lived to tell about it, and for the past few hundred years no one had dared to accept the fate that awaited them. Then, from the midst of the crowd, a young man stepped forward.

It was Theron! He hoped that by answering the challenge he would become a true man. And the challenge was this: to win back the Seven Great Treasures stolen from the Monastery in the Lost City of Ya-Brodin. But that was not enough. He must also restore the Monastery to its former glory and splendor.

Theron soon found himself ascending into the sky within a crystal ball, accompanying Grey Lord. He saw the lights of the village below twinkling beneath the clouds, and above shone the moon.

"Listen to me carefully," began Grey Lord. "Long ago, when I was still young, there was an ancient city called Ya-Brodin. The city was the center of a great academy, a place where apprentices of Magic, that is, the Brotherhood of Enlightenment, lived. We, the High Lords, were very close to them. Our powers kept peace on earth," Grey Lord said, with a distant look.

"Then came the Cult of Deaths...hordes from chaos, full of twisted ambition and malice. They attacked Ya-Brodin and stole the Seven Great Treasures held in the Monastery. In the end, all the members of the Brotherhood were slaughtered. Evil struck a blow which may never fully heal." A mist seemed to fill Grey Lord's eyes as he turned to the young man and continued. "Theron, you will be a hero who will one day be my successor. I will not make you go on such a quest alone. You may choose three others from the seven heroes who serve me. It is you who are our hope. Go now upon this, your great quest. Seek your fortune..... and fame."
The Seven Scenarios

Aku-Tu-Ba
In ancient times the mighty magician Alaphalon created a great stone fortress which hangs in the sky. This is Aku-Tu-Ba. Aku-Tu-Ba has been floating on the wind from long after the time Alaphalon passed from life. Now it is the home of the Mummies who, though they did not participate in the battles against the Brotherhood of Enlightenment, stole the Shield Defiant amidst the confusion. It is said that the Shield Defiant absorbs energy from the sun.

The City of Formicia
The Trolins dwell in this underground city. They were the first to come to the aid of evil and helped to plunder the ancient Monastery. The Taza Poleyn was their reward. Using the Taza Poleyn's power the Trolins continue to carve out their underground city and lay plans for the conquest of the world.

Village of Thieves
Under the ground and on the west end of the Nordoor Marsh is the Village of Thieves. The villagers are called Gigglers and are, by nature, thieves. It was they who first planned the treacherous robbery of the Great Gifts, seeking eagerly for the Tazahelm and taking it for their own. This great relic grants the wearer a lightning-like quickness and is therefore the heart's desire of any thief.

Tower of Drator
Drator was once a great warrior-sorcerer and the Cult of Deaths, a murderous mob of mercenaries, was his creation. After he was expelled by the High Lords, he shut himself in his own tower and went to sleep until the time of the slaying of the Brotherhood. It was then that the Gigglers hired him. As a reward Drator asked for the Taza Boots. Great speed is given to those who wear these boots.

Den of Shadodan
At one time Shadodan had been a wizard, but legends say that he was defeated by a witch hundreds of years ago and turned into a dragon. The Gigglers enlisted his aid in exchange for the Taza Armour. Shadodan desired the magical mail above all, for the power of the Taza Armour is such that it can withstand a dragon's fire.

The Tomb of Sarmon
This evil wizard aided in the slaying of the Brotherhood of Enlightenment. Later, though his ancient body perished, his great mystical force kept his spirit bound as a guardian of the Soul Cage, one of the Treasures of the Monastery.

Demon's Gate
In this world, there is place where evil spirits, the creations of dark magic, dwell. That place is the Demon's Gate. Although they wished no real evil to come to the world, they were drawn to the destruction of the Brotherhood as moths drawn to a flame, compelled by a false will. One called Sargoth found the sword named Retaliator, which had been carefully hidden by the Enlightened Ones, and bore it back to the Demon's Gate.

The Goal of the Game
You are Theron, and your quest is to return the Seven Great Treasures to the monastery of Yas-Brodin. You must retrieve one great Treasure from each stage, and then place it on an altar at the beginning of that stage. When all Seven Treasures have been placed on their proper altars you have completed the game. If you succeed, Theron will become one of the High Lords.

(2) Statistics and Abilities

Sizing Up Hero Statistics
All heroes have three major characteristics: Health, Stamina and Mana. These can be viewed on the graph at the Dungeon screen or in numbers at the Information screen.

Health
This shows the physical vitality of the character. If this drops to zero the character dies.

Stamina
This is the Exhaustion level of the character. When this drops to less than half the maximum number, the overall ability of the hero will decrease.

Mana
This is the power of magic: a rating of energy used for spellcasting. As this decreases, the ability to cast spells also decreases.

Hero Abilities
All heroes possess certain abilities. These can be developed by gaining experience during an adventure.

Strength
The higher the Strength value the more physical power the hero can put into an attack. The hero also has a greater carrying capacity.

Dexterity
A hero’s Dexterity is a measure of how well the hero handles weapons as well as the ability to dodge attacks.

Wisdom
This is the measure of how fast a hero can learn spells and the speed at which they can regain Mana.

Vitality
A hero’s Vitality indicates how quickly they can recover from an injury as well as the level of resistance to certain injuries.

Anti-Magic
Shows the hero’s overall resistance to magic attacks.

Anti-Fire
Measure of a hero’s resistance to fire and fire attacks.
Special Skills and Levels
All heroes have special skills represented by four occupations: Fighter, Ninja, Wizard and Priest. They are divided into fifteen levels which are shown on the Level Status screen.

FIGHTER  Fighters have superior skill in handling large weapons and are usually stronger than other heroes.

NINJA     Ninjas are skilled in the use of precision weapons and can use their hands with deadly effect.

WIZARD    Wizards can control magical forces with their minds and then use these forces in battle.

PRIEST    Priests are experts in the art of healing. They can cure injured characters with Magic treatments.

3. Ready Hand

4. Statistics Graph
Three bar graphs show the hero's current Health, Stamina and Mana (from the left). When a hero is injured Health decreases. At zero the hero dies. When Stamina goes below half the carrying capacity of the hero is reduced. When Magic spells are cast Mana decreases.

5. Defense Indicator
Magic and Potions defend the heroes. The colored boxes indicate the kind of defense being used.

Green Anti-fire  Defense against fire-based attacks
Light Blue Anti-magic Defense against magic spells
Blue Anti-attack  Defense against physical attacks

(2) The Leader
The leader is the hero who follows your will within the dungeon. For example, he or she will pick up the things the party finds or will open and close doors. When you want to change leaders move the cursor onto the name of the hero and press Button L.

Picking Up Items
To pick up items move the party close to the item, place the cursor on the item and press Button I. Not all items can be picked up.

Putting Down Items
Items that can be picked up can also be put down. Select the item with the cursor, move it to the place you want to put it and then press Button I.

Throwing Items
A leader can throw items by picking up an item, lifting it close to the top of the Dungeon screen and pressing Button L.
Operating the Controls

The leader can operate various tools and controls found in the dungeon such as levers and buttons. To operate the wall controls the party must be standing in front of them.

Move the cursor over the controls and press Button I. Sometimes controls need a special item (e.g. a key) to be activated. Use the cursor to place the special item over the control, then press Button I.

Drawing Water

Water is essential in this adventure and must be replaced when used. It can be carried in either a flask or a waterskin, and can be drawn at fountains found in the dungeon. Draw water by selecting a flask or waterskin with the cursor and pressing Button I at a fountain.

(3) Attack Abilities

When you want to attack, choose a hero and the form of attack from the Attack Menu. One hero can attack repeatedly. Other characters can attack once the previous hero's attack is finished. If you back off in your attack the enemy will counterattack.

Note: After an attack you usually need a little time to prepare for the next attack. The amount of time you will have to wait depends on the form of attack.

How to Attack

1. Select a Hero from the Attack Menu

Items such as weapons held in the action hand appear on the Attack Menu. The Attack Menu gives the same information as that seen on the upper part of the screen. Choose a hero from the Attack Menu and press Button I.

2. Select the Form of Attack

The techniques a hero can use for an attack are shown. Choose one with the cursor and press Button I.

(4) Casting Spells

Magic is interwoven in the universe of Dungeon Master. All magic is cast by chanting spells made up of runic symbols. Spells use Mana to create special Magic. This energy is stored in each hero. Heroes can remember spells but they need training to cast them. Beginners who don’t have a lot of Mana can only cast low level spells. Trained, experienced heroes can cast very high level spells.

Forming Spells

1. Select a Spellcaster

Use the cursor to pick a spellcaster from the square indicators on the Spell Menu (members 1-4 shown above) and press Button I. A hero’s name will appear along with a row of symbols. Spells are made by arranging the symbols in a certain order.

2. Choose a Power Symbol

The first six symbols shown are power symbols. These indicate the strength of the spell. Select a power symbol with the cursor and press Button I. The symbol will appear in the frame below.

3. Select Other Symbols

Six elemental symbols and six form symbols follow. Lastly, six class/alignment symbols are shown. Follow the same procedure as in the first sequence.

Note: To erase symbols move the cursor to the arrow and press Button I. Used Mana will not be replaced.
4. Casting the Spell
After placing the magical symbols in order, select the spell frame with the cursor and press Button I. The spell inside the spell frame will be cast.

Note: If a hero does not have sufficient spellcasting powers, the spell will not work. Some spells require special items.

(5) The Battle Line

The Battle Line display that appears on the Dungeon screen gives a top down view of the party. Each hero is shown in the color corresponding to the color of the hero’s bar graph. Position is important. For example, if a sword wielding hero is not in the front row, then the sword will not reach the enemy. To change the Battle Line select the hero’s figure with the cursor and press Button I. Move the figure into the new position and press Button I again.

Note: Monsters do not always attack from the front. When attacked from the side or from behind the member closest to the monster turns to face the attacker. This will be shown on the Battle Line display. If you want to change the Battle Line again follow the above sequence.

The Spells

(1) Spell Symbols

There are four magical symbol classes: Power, Elemental Influence, Form, and Class/Alignment. Each class has six symbols.

I. Power Symbols

Power symbols define the strength of a spell. A spell must always begin with a Power symbol before any other combinations. Power symbols create effects that depend on strength.

- Lo (Shrink)
- Um (Transcendence)
- En (Equality)
- Ee (Enlargement)
- Pal (Emphasis)
- Mon (Might)

II. Elemental Influence Symbols

Elemental symbols follow Power symbols and add physical force to spells. Many common spells include only Power and Elemental Influence symbols.

- Ya (Earth power)
- Vi (Water power)
- Oh (Air power)
- Ful (Fire power)
- Des (Void power)
- ZO (Negative power)

III. Form Symbols

Form Symbols follow Elemental Influence symbols. They give spells a special purpose or direction. They are not necessary for all spells, but spell effects can be spread out when these are used.

- Ven (Poison influence)
- Ew (Effects only)
- Kath (Shockwaves)
- IR (Floating)
- BRO (Support)
- GOR (Invokes attributes of enemy)
The influencing power of Class/Alignment symbols combine the occupations with the concepts of good and evil within the realm of nature. A great amount of Mana is needed to control this. Beginning casters have great difficulty in handling this so it is the last symbol of any particular spell.

Introduction to the Maps

Here are the maps to the first stage, Aku-Tu-Ba.

- Doors
  To open doors use keys or pressure plates.

- Stairs
  Pay attention to where they lead and how they connect.

- Fountains
  Replenish your water supply here using a skin or a flask.

- Pit Traps
  These lie throughout the dungeon. Some can be closed with switches or controls.

- Pressure Plates
  Many of these are open/close switches. They are activated by weight, not just by standing on them.

- Forcefields
  Forcefields have many uses. (Eg. teleporters, barriers, turn-arounds, etc.)

- Disappearing Walls
  These can be illusions or they can disappear under certain conditions.

- VI Altars
  When the bones of a slain hero are placed on these altars the hero will come back to life.

- Buttons
  Some of these are carefully concealed on walls. Keep your eyes open for them.

---

Top Floor

1. Starting point.
2. Return the Shield Defiant here and place it on the altar.
3. Teleport from here to find a key.
4. Do not miss this!

1st Lower Level

- 5. Be sure to take this torch!
- 6. Check out the order of the two buttons carefully and move fast.
- 7. Move forward very slowly.
- 8. Here is a deadly fireball trap. Make one leap to the side.
- 9. To take this magical box, you have to make the forcefield change and then teleport the box.

---

2nd Lower Level

Theron's Quest is a real time role-playing game. Even if you do not move, time will continue to tick away. Because of this, there are some points to keep in mind during the adventure. Read the following hints carefully and refer to them when needed.

Always Be Prepared
Keep weapons ready in all party members' action hands since monsters can attack at any time. When you get a lot of missiles (eg. slayers) keep them in the quiver.

Practice Casting Spells
Practice spellcasting and make your Magic strong. Difficult magic is not available at first. Start by practicing with lower level symbols. Failure brings experience as well. Your technique will improve even though you may not have accomplished what you wanted. The only real magic that a Priest can use is in making potions and casting healing or protection spells. Almost all other kinds of magic belong to the Wizard.

Get Some Combat Experience
Fighting skills also require experience. The more you fight the stronger you become. Put the strongest fighters up front and have them use their heaviest weapons. You cannot reach an enemy from the back row even with a lot of swinging. Put members with missile weapons in the back row where they will be safe.

Watch Out
The enemy can come at you from any direction; front, back or side. Keep a lookout for escape routes where you can always retreat to safety. If the danger is just too great, run!!

Observe Your Environment
Something important may be hidden right under your feet or under ordinary things. There are levers and hidden switches not only on the floors, but also on the walls. Sounds can be important as well. Train your ears to recognize sounds such as the clank that comes from placing your foot on a trap, or the rattles of an opening door.

Make Maps
Keep precise maps of the dungeons. If you have maps, you will not have to cover the same territory again and again. Maps help you uncover places you have not explored as well as keeping track of good escape routes.

Moving Through Dungeons
To get through difficult areas, use the simplified movement technique. Sometimes it is the only way to get through a tricky area.

Deliver the Great Treasures
The stage is not over when you find the great treasures stolen from the Monastery. It finishes when you place the treasure on the altar at the beginning of the stage (with the exception of the Demon's Gate level). On your way back you will be beset by a lot of fierce beasts! Do not be caught off guard!
